

Tim Center

A Florida native, Tim has committed his professional and personal life to improving the community that is Florida. Tim has worked on state policy and non-profit advocacy for the Florida Legislature, Florida Chamber of Commerce and Florida Home Builders Association. Most recently, Tim served as the Vice President of Sustainability Initiatives at the Collins Center for Public Policy, a non-partisan independent think tank.

Tim is the Executive Director of Sustainable Florida – an alliance of organizations committed to promoting the adoption of sustainable development principles through collaboration and education. He is the principal of Centerfield Strategy – a consulting firm dedicated to helping organizations develop sustainability plans and report and facilitate strategic planning.